Mobile Clinic

Why is there a need for a mobile clinic?

Access to healthcare is one of the most fundamental human rights, yet it remains elusive for thousands of displaced people, refugees living in camps, and residents of remote areas due to the difficulty or complete lack of access to healthcare services. In response to this challenge, the organization has designed a mobile clinic and equipped it with all the necessary resources to provide healthcare services and activate them anywhere and anytime. In line with the Sustainable Development Goals, ensuring that everyone enjoys healthy lives and well-being at all ages will become a reality in the coming years, which are now close to 2030.

Fatima's Journey to Motherhood:

A Touching Tale of Hope and Resilience

Fatima, a woman from Doan District, had not been blessed with a child for 25 years. A glimmer of hope for pregnancy appeared when she learned about the follow-up services offered at the women's and maternity clinic in the primary health care center during a visit to her neighbor who had given birth after six years of marriage. Fatima visited the center and underwent follow-up with the specialist doctor through the use of medications. However, the long period of miscarriage was not a motivating factor for her to continue follow-up with the specialist doctor. She was absent from the center for a year and did not return except to complain of fever symptoms. She entered the internal medicine clinic, but one of the positives of the center was the electronic storage of patient files. Therefore, the doctor noticed that Fatima had been following up with an obstetrician-gynecologist, so he referred her directly to the same doctor who performed various tests on her, including a pregnancy test. The result was a beacon of hope and a new turn in the life of Fatima, who will become a mother, God willing, after a quarter-century of patience.

Success stories

Pain Amidst Hope: The Story of Nisreen, a Dedicated Refugee Student

The phrase “pain amidst hope” perfectly encapsulates the story of Nusrine, a brilliant immigrant student who chose to volunteer in teaching young children the Quran as part of her application for the “New Horizons Leaders” scholarship. Each evening, she would traverse the rugged terrain with her father on a motorcycle to reach the designated memorization circles, aspiring to crown her parents with the honor of instilling the word of God in the minds of young girls.

On one fateful evening, she and her father were involved in a horrific car accident on their way to the mosque. Her father succumbed to his injuries a few days later, leaving Nisreen in a state of profound shock and guilt. She felt responsible for her father’s death, believing that it occurred during her volunteer work, which he took immense pride in.

Overwhelmed by this tragedy, she struggled to move forward until she realized that her father’s greatest wish was for her to graduate and obtain a bachelor’s degree. With newfound determination, she returned to her studies, fueled by the image of her father’s pride in her.

As a testament to her resilience and unwavering spirit, Nisreen was awarded the “Nahal” Challenge Shield for Overcoming Adversities, an honor bestowed upon individuals who demonstrate exceptional strength and perseverance in overcoming obstacles.

Just as Nisreen’s journey to the mosque with her father was arduous, so too was her path to achieving her aspirations. Yet, like the smooth and serene path that unfolds after overcoming challenges, Nisreen’s story is one of triumph and unwavering determination.

In the midst of raging waters and fierce winds, Allah's relief arrived in the form of a mobile medical clinic. The clinic, deployed as part of the humanitarian response to Cyclone Tige's devastation in Hadramawt Governorate, managed to save two women in critical labor in the Al-Raydah and Qa'eer Khaleel directorates.

The clinic caravan arrived in record time to provide urgent medical care to those affected by the cyclone, including two women who were unable to give birth due to the fearsome conditions surrounding them. The clinic's team successfully performed a cesarean section on one woman, while the other, with the assistance of the specialized doctor, was able to deliver her baby naturally. This remarkable feat is a testament to the clinic team's extensive expertise and unwavering humanity in the face of adversity.
